

THE CENTRAL RECORD.

TWENTY SEVENTH YEAR.

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 25, 1917.

NUMBER 43.

Look at the label on your paper, and if you owe THE RECORD anything send in the money. The high cost of paper together with the "not-pay-system" of some of our subscribers makes it very unpleasant when the time comes to make out our payroll. We trust that a hint to the wise will be sufficient.

Mr. Z. A. Jones,

Lancaster, Ky.

Dear Sir

Your first question—Is it a light draft?

We are so glad you asked this, for it is one of the most vital points in the make up of a good plow.

EVERY CHILLED PLOW is the lightest draft plow on the market to-day, because the mold-boards are constructed that it gives the lightest draft possible to a plow.

We will continue our letter in the Central Record next week.

What Our Ads Tell You

The goods in the store back up.

It isn't that way everywhere is it?

Generally what is printed is better than what the store sells.

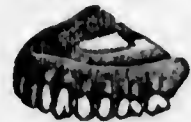

But we are particular in this regard. Particular to have SUCH establishments that exaggeration is quite unnecessary.

So when you read a statement about what this store sells, you don't have to discount it to get at the truth. Just take what we say at its face value, and you will find no cause for dissatisfaction.

And so Mrs. Visconti was born in Kentucky, "out Switzer way." My, how we have risen.

Slush! Slush! Slush! on thy end, gray asphalt, oh see! And I would that my tongue could utter the thoughts that arise in me!

Tom Lawson's revelations in the leak inquiry are as disappointing as his articles on "Frenzied Finance." Tom's a great talker but never seems to make a point.

Washington hasn't any corner on "leak" cases. Since the big snow there is one in most every house in Lancaster which is being investigated by local timers.

The cold weather gives us all the chance to think and plan. There are long evenings by the fireside. We can renew family joys, and we can have time for thinking and study.

It developed recently that Mrs. Ruth Visconti, who has figured in the "leak" inquiry, was a native of Scott county, Kentucky, having been born near Stampung Ground, where she spent her early life. She has been on a Washington newspaper for many years.

When you consider that snow weighs seven pounds to the square foot, we wonder that more roofs did not collapse. In order to obviate this and also sudden thaw every precaution was taken to prevent injury to person and property by having the snow shoveled off, something we never had to do before.

"Kentucky stands twelfth from the bottom and thirty-seventh from the top among the States in illiteracy. The eighth Congressional district by counties as follows: Anderson, 649; Boyle, 1,525; Garrard, 844; Jessamine, 1,331; Lincoln, 1,890; Madison, 2,000; Mercer, 879; Shelby, 1,710, making a total number of illiterates in this district of 11,316.

This is not a dun.

But we need some man.

So we thought we would just say.

And won't you come and pay?

REGISTERED STOCK SOLD.

Mr. G. H. Swinebroad has recently sold and shipped two of his registered Jersey bull calves, for which he received fancy prices in the south. One going to Mr. Garth Gilchrist, of Courtland, Ala., and the other to Mr. Richard Prewitt, at Leighton, Ala.

PIANO RECITAL.

The public is cordially invited to attend the piano recital given by the piano department of the Graded School at the Auditorium this evening, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Many pupils will take part in the exercises of the evening and a pleasant entertainment is assured those who attend.

MAKING GOOD.

Charlie Dunn, a former Lancaster boy and a graduate of the High School here a few years ago and afterwards taking a course at Kentucky University, is holding down a position with the Chicago Telephone Company, being the Assistant manager of this system. Charlie always was a bright and industrious boy and his friends here are proud of his rapid advance and respect for him a bright and promising future.

FALLS IN WELL.

Some excitement was created last Friday, when the delivery horse, wagon and driver, belonging to Davidson and Tomlinson, tumbled into the old well near the property of Mrs. H. B. Hickey. For a time it looked like the horse was "done for", while the driver and the wagon were removed with little difficulty. The well is more than ten feet deep and the horse occupied a very uncomfortable position at the bottom. A tree is located at a very strategic point, which Harry Tomlinson says was planted there for the purpose, over the limb of which was thrown the rope of a block and tackle, with plenty of help standing around, the rope was securely fastened around the body of the horse and he was soon brought to the surface, safe and without a scratch. The well is dangerous, for several accidents have occurred there recently and it should be covered over securely or filled up.

GOODS AT BIG REDUCTION.

This office has been getting out, this week, an immense amount of advertising, for Hastin Bros. of this city, announcing their great reduction sale of groceries, dry goods and notions, preparatory to making room for the great amount of electrical supplies, necessary for the electric light plant, a franchise for which they purchased last fall, the immediate installation of which will begin in a few weeks. Their advertisement contains some remarkable low prices and we know that the public will be quick to purchase the many bargains offered.

POPULAR GENTLEMAN

Judge R. A. Burnside, of Lancaster, is here visiting his brother, Dr. Wm. Burnside, and his daughter, Mrs. T. K. Watson, this week. Judge Burnside has been in the service of the U. S. Internal Revenue Department for more than thirty years, let it be Democrats or Republicans in power it seems it is hard to get along without him. He was elected County Judge of Garrard County on the Republican ticket many years ago, and his son, Joe Burnside, was elected Clerk of the Circuit Court on the Republican ticket in 1915. It is said that the Burnside are the only people to ever be elected on the Republican ticket in that county. Mountain Advocate.

HELP THE BOYS

In Effort To Get Out School Paper.

The boys of the High School, with the help and endorsement of Prof. Hopkins are making an effort to secure enough advertising to help finance a college paper they hope to get out every month during the remainder of the school year.

They are meeting with some encouragement in the way of advertising and the merchants and the business men of the city should help them. The price they are asking for advertising space is very reasonable and the boys should be encouraged in their efforts.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Appointed in District Number 4.

Mr. J. W. Coldiron, the magistrate in the Union-Paint Lick Precinct, resigned his office in that precinct in the Governor, and Honorable J. M. Metcalf of Paint Lick has been appointed by Governor Stanley to succeed him. Mr. Metcalf has been an intimate friend and supporter of Governor Stanley and the Governor could not have found a more competent and suitable man for this responsible position, in addition to honoring a good friend. Squire Metcalf will be a good addition to the Fiscal Court, being a man of wide business experience and one who is deeply interested in the business progress of his locality.

MR. J. HOGAN BALLARD OUT FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

The democrats will have the opportunity of making a choice between candidates for the legislature in this county at the August primary. Mr. J. Hogan Ballard, one of the most successful and popular young business men of the Bryantsville section throws his hat into the political ring by announcing his candidacy for the democratic nomination to represent this county in the Lower House at the next General Assembly, subject to the will of the democrats.

Mr. Ballard by his statement shows a clean party record. In fact, it is generally known that he is one of the most active party workers in the county. He pledges fidelity and loyalty to his party organization. He shows by his platform that he is alive to the call of the public for needed legislation. This bright, competent young democrat will add strength to the ticket in the next election, because he is popular, has a good party record, is in touch with the progressive needs of our county and will be able to do his part for the ticket in the November election. Many democrats, feeling that Mr. Ballard, having been such a good democratic worker and so loyal to his party and its nominees in the past, is entitled to a consideration since this is the first time he has ever asked for office.

CO-OPERATION.

The Blue Grass Publishers and Printers' Association, in its quarterly meeting at the Phoenix Hotel decided to adopt a co-operative plan for buying newsprint paper and supplies. After discussion of establishing an advertising agency, the association endorsed the Mutual Benefit Advertising Company, of which Thomas M. Owsley is manager. The so-called "tree plate" advertising matter will not be accepted except at the regular advertising rates, was the decision reached. The members agreed to send notices also to manufacturers that no free plate need be shipped except on express order of the paper.

J. M. Allen, of the Cynthiana Democrat, president of the association was instructed to communicate with Kentucky congressmen and senators, seeking their aid in the campaign to lower newsprint rates. H. M. Hutton of the Harrodsburg Herald is secretary of the association.

U. S. HENS END LONDON EGG FAMINE.

Huge Importations Cut Record Price From $1.14 a Dozen.

London, Jan. 22.—Owing to the importation in the last week of 15,000,000 eggs from America and Egypt the price of eggs in London markets, which had been gradually soaring for six months, has suddenly fallen.

While eggs a week ago today were selling at 90 cents to $1.14 a dozen, today the price dropped to $1.08 for the freshest variety and to 60 cents a dozen and even lower for other varieties. The average household egg that brought 60 cents a dozen a week ago is being sold today at 60 to 75 cents a dozen, according to the neighborhood. A week ago there were almost no eggs in the market to be had for less than five cents each while today some of the larger markets are selling them as low as three cents, these being small, but none the less fresh.

That is what the importation of 15,000,000 eggs has done for London in one week.

We Will Build Warships On The Government's Own Terms

To the American People

It is claimed by the Navy Department that our estimates of cost on battle cruisers are too high.

The Federal Trade Commission is an agency competent and equipped to decide just such a question as this. The country wants ships and they should be built in the quickest possible time.

We therefore repeat an offer which in our original bid for battle cruisers we made to the United States Government.

The Bethlehem Steel Corporation is prepared to undertake the building of the battle cruisers included in the Government's naval program U. S. NAVY BATTLE CRUISERS. ANY BASIS WHICH THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION SHALL, after examination of the facts, determine to be fair.

CROSSING THE BAR.

(Said to have been Admiral Dewey's favorite poem.)

Sunset and the evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar

When I put out to sea,
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound or foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep

Turns again home,
Twilight and the evening bell,
And after that the dark!

And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;
For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place

The flood may bear me far,
I hope to meet my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

JOHN W. PRUITT

Passes Away At Marksbnry.

When the news of the death of Mr. John W. Pruitt, was heralded thruout the community last Friday morning it came as a great shock, as only a few of the near neighbors were aware of his illness. He was taken with a deep cold which developed into pneumonia and he died in just one week. From a human standpoint, his death seemed untimely, as he was greatly needed in the home, in the church and as a citizen. Mr. Pruitt was 50 years of age and moved into this community 4 years ago from Freedom. Those who have known him from boyhood attest of his high integrity and sterling qualities. Since having united with the church at this place, he has been faithful to duty. He was Assistant Superintendent, deacon and church treasurer, filling each distinctive office well. The home where this great shadow has fallen is sad indeed, leaving a broken-hearted wife and a bright, handsome boy of 3 years. May she look beyond the shadow to see the silver lining that "God doeth all things well". He also leaves two brothers, and four sisters, Nathaniel Pruitt, Mrs. Simpson Rogers, Mrs. David Pruitt of Garrard county, Porter Pruitt of Madison county, Mrs. Geo. Pierce of Decatur Ill. Mrs. W. H. Compton of Atlanta Ill. The funeral services were held at the Fork church by his pastor, Rev. J. W. Mahan, after which he was laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Nora Pruitt desires to thank all of her friends and neighbors for their valuable assistance during her late sorrow.

Mr. B. K. Swope, who has been ill is much improved.

Mrs. Fanny Pollard has been ill for the past few days.

Mrs. Edmond Sutton is indisposed from rheumatism.

D. S. Swope sold his crop of tobacco at the barn for 22 cents.

Little John Pruitt has been ill of pneumonia for a few days.

Mr. W. D. Markshury who has been clerking with Joe Skinner, is ill at the home of Mr. McAfee.

Miss Virgie Clark of Danville and Mr. Price Clark of Fayette county, have been with their sister, Mrs. Nora Pruitt, for several days.

Miss Georgia Dunn recently bought a farm containing 65 acres at Beuna Vista, price unknown. Her farm joins the one her brothers recently bought.

Mrs. Ryle Isom and Mrs. Hutchinson, of Camp Dick Robinson, two of the best women financiers in the community and there is little doubt that they beat the men making money as the following figures will show. Mrs. Hutchinson sold during the year of 1916, $750 worth of eggs and butter, while Mrs. Isom tended a crop of tobacco with her own hands, the only expense being 35c for setting. She recently sold the crop for $635, together with other farm produce amounting to $413, making a total of $948. If the men cant beat these figures let them be silent.

The farmers of Garrard Co, who have been selling their tobacco on the Lexington brakes are very much pleased with their sales. Mrs. D. Noel and Hurt sold a load of 2160 lbs, for $23.15.

Feeling His Stomach.

James was having dinner at home. As soon as he was seated he began nibbling at his pie. When asked his reason for doing this, he replied: "Oh, I want to eat some pie first and some pie last so my stomach will think it had all pie for dinner."

Woman Doctors Among Savages.

No matter where we look, whether it be among the Indian tribes of North or South America, or among the people of Africa, Australia, Kamchatka, or Cochlin China, we come across women taking part in medical ceremonies. Everywhere we find "the medicine woman," or the "wise woman," held in deep reverence.

Punishment Suited Jack.

Jack had been naughty and his teacher said: "Now, Jack, I've talked and talked and you won't be a nice boy so bring your books and sit at my desk, so I can watch you." Jack slowly gathered up his primer and tablet and climbed up on the stool. The other children all laughed. After a time Jack said: "I like to sit by you." Needless to say Jack didn't have to any more.

Regretted Forgetfulness.

Raymond, who lives in the country had been taken into town by his mother to dine at his uncle's. After dinner, as he sat joyously watching his city cousins playing about, he suddenly became embarrassed, noting the smart frocks of the little girls and the Lord Fauntleroy rigs of the boys, and appeared to try to hide his feet back of the round of his chair. When his mother questioned him, he whispered, almost tearfully: "Before I came I forgot to paint my shoes."

Three Definitions.

Curly had several times been to see Jack, a nine-months-old baby, and was so exuberant in his love for and enthusiasm over him we were anxious and curious to hear what he would say about Billy, then ten days old. Unfortunately, his visit came when Billy was asleep, and Curly solemnly eyed the motionless little nite "why down in the crib. When his father asked that evening what he thought of Billy, Curly said, "Well, I'm a little boy, and Jack's a little baby, and Billy's just a name."

J. A. BEAZLEY.

J. HOGAN BALLARD.

THEY PLAY IT AS A GAME.

The idea that candidates for legislative nominations in our party should state their past party record, as well as other principles for which they stand, has received much favorable comment. But one, Editor Saulley of the I. J., who pretends to publish a Democratic paper, seems to believe in political "free love" and demurs to our position and comments editorially in his characteristic language.

Whether with Mr. J. A. Beazley's authority, we are not advised, he states in substance that should he be elected to the Legislature Governor Stanley will not "be able to handle Mr. Beazley in the slightest degree". It would not be unreasonable to construe this statement that Mr. Beazley would cooperate with republicans and independents and against his fellow democrats if sent to represent his county at Frankfort by his party. When the article to which Editor Saulley refers was written, Mr.
Beazley had announced his candidacy.
Some talk had been going around that he was deficient in his past party record, and we asked him the questions which gave an occasion for him to publish his record to his party from whom he sought the favor of a nomination to a place of responsibility and honor. While we do not claim any greater right than others, yet we do feel that any democrat may with propriety, without giving offense, inquire whether a candidate has the habit in the past of scratching his party nominees. Having heard it so generally rumored that in 1909 Mr. Beazley did not vote for all of the party nominees in the November election, and that in 1913, after he was defeated for the nomination for County Judge, he voted against the late C. A. Robinson for sheriff, the late J. W. Hamilton for County Clerk, and David Ross for jailer, and that in 1915 he voted against our present sheriff, Mr. Tom Ballard, one of the most popular young democrats in our County, and against Governor Stanley, Democratic nominees of the November election. We asked the questions in good faith to give Mr.
Beazley an occasion to publicly clear his political record, if he could honestly do so. We did not intend to intimate in the interrogatories that he had voted against Judge Arnold. He saw fit not to give public answer to the questions.
Democrats may interpret his silence.
Personally, believing so deeply in the greatness of our party and its principles we feel that any one, who claimed to be a democrat, would be glad to declare a straight party record on any occasion an opportunity was furnished, especially when such a one is a candidate for a Democratic nomination. If it be true that Mr. Beazley has not co-operated with his fellow democrats at home, to be sure, as Editor Saulley suggests, he would not likely do so if sent by them as a representative to Frankfort. We shall not prophesy the result of Mr. Beazley's candidacy, but can say that the history of our party in this county in the past has been that "party fealty" and fitness have been pass words of equal importance to get a nomination in a Democratic primary.

HOGAN BALLARDAnnounces For Representative And Issues
Strong Card.

Heeding to the appeals of his many friends throughout the county, Mr.
Hogan Ballard, of Bryantsville, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination, to represent Garrard county, in the Lower House of the legislature. Being an ardent supporter of the Democratic party and its nominees, never before seeking or asking for office, his friends think that he is a sure winner and deserves the support which he asks in his manly and open card which follows:

To The Democrats of Garrard County:- I would feel greatly honored to be elected to represent our County in the Lower House at the next General Assembly, and will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination at the coming August primary.

I desire to call attention to the fact that although Bryantsville furnishes to our party the majority which elects Democrats in this county, there is seldom a candidate from this section of the county. It has been many years since Bryantsville has furnished a candidate for the Legislature, and for this reason claim some consideration.

Where one seeks to serve the public in any legislative capacity, he should announce publicly the principles which he will endeavor to enact into law, as well as the party policy which will guide him if elected by the people.
Should my ambition to serve you be realized the following are some of the things I shall endeavor to do:-

First—I shall be loyal to my party organization and endeavor to co-operate with my fellow democrats of the House, that my party may have due credit for the good that may be accomplished by and through my efforts.
Since there has been some question raised concerning party record of all Legislative candidates, I am pleased to state that I have voted in every regular election since I reached my majority, and not only have I never scratched or voted against a Democratic nominee, but have worked with all my strength and influence for the election of all the nominees of my party. The active work for party nominees by me,
is too well known to the Democrats generally to need any further word
from me.

Second—One of the worst evils in our State and County, in our judgment is the shipping of intoxicating liquors
from wet territory into dry territory, within the state. If nominated and elected, I shall introduce and undertake to have passed a law preventing the shipping of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors from wet territory within the state to dry territory.

Third—I am of the opinion that the people of the State should be permitted to decide the question by popular vote,
whether Kentucky shall have State Wine prohibition, and if elected shall vote and use my influence for a law to have this question submitted to the people at the earliest possible legal time. I personally favor State Prohibition.

Fourth—I shall favor, if elected, such an amendment and revision of our tax laws as will provide a sufficient revenue to meet the needs of the State Government economically administered, but will not suffer such a law to be enacted as will relieve personal property from taxation
to the increase of the tax on real estate.

Fifth—I shall favor a law directing all Automobile license tax to be paid to the County Clerk of the county in which the Automobile is owned, to be used for the maintenance and upkeep of the public roads, of that county.

Sixth—I shall, if elected to this important office, give my time and thought to the enactment of such other laws, as in my opinion will be for the best interest of our State and County.

Soliciting your support and assuring all democrats that any assistance rendered in this my first candidacy for an office, will be deeply appreciated, I am, Respectfully,
J. HOGAN BALLARD.

HARLAN AND BAUGHMAN

Shake Hands With Friends Here Monday.

Hon. Jay W. Harlan, of Danville, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator, was in town last Monday, giving the glad hand to the constituency of Garrard. Several Hayle county citizens were on hand also, boosting his candidacy and urging his support.

Mr. Smith Baughman, of Lincoln, was also here last Monday and was looking after his race for the nomination for sheriff of his home county. Mr.
Baughman has lots of friends here who would like to "ever" across the line
and put one over for him if it were possible. He made Lincoln county one of the best sheriffs she ever had and has lots of friends there who says he will turn the trick again.

bodily aches. Sometimes he couldn't even find himself, but that was before he tried Tanlac."

Mr. Emrick said:
"Some nights I ached so I had to call a doctor. I felt grouchier most of the time. In the mornings I was exhausted. Sometimes, when I sat down to a meal, I couldn't raise my hand up to my mouth, because of aching arms. A friend advised me to try Tanic. It did me lots of good. That's why I'm advising others to try it. It tuned up my whole system and drove off that grouchiness feeling."

A LIMIT TO FREE SPACE.

The newspapers of a community are always willing to do more than their share in giving full publicity to worthy matters, especially those things affect-the community life, broadly. Sometimes the public does not fully appreciate all that this implies. Occasionally the editor of the paper gets surfeited with free notices and then he may be inclined to rebel.

This paper aims to help along all community enterprises, and is always glad to contribute publicity without charge. It has a friendly feeling for all those projects which church, lodge or musical people undertake, usually for charitable purposes or for the good of the cause.

It simply cannot, however undertake to provide them with unlimited free publicity. It will at any time print what it thinks is the news about such affairs without charge, and it is usually willing to stretch any rule it makes concerning announcements and write-ups. It does that because it knows that in connection with such affairs a lot of good people are always doing a great deal of work without hope of reward.

However, in the general run of business it is compelled to take into consideration at least two elements: the promoters of these undertakings often do not fully appreciate. One is that on Saturday evenings the printers have to be paid and the other is that the people who kindly buy this paper will stand for only a limited amount of advance notice of concerts and entertainments in those portions of the paper where they expect to find the news. These considerations are highly important.
Generally speaking, there is news in every such affair and there is advertising which ought to be paid for. A mere first announcement of plans is always news; an elaborate advance notice, designed to bring in the money, properly belongs in the advertising columns.—

LOUISVILLE MAN

Named As State Fair Secretary.

The State Board of Agriculture at its meeting held in Frankfort yesterday, elected Fount T. Kremer, of Louisville, secretary of the Kentucky State Fair. The election was made necessary by the death two weeks ago of W. J.
Knoch. Mr. Kremer has been associated with the State Fair management for a number of years and was considered best equipped for all entrants, despite the qualifications of many who had applied.

DIRECTORSOf Kentucky Red Fulkshire Association
Meet.

A meeting of much importance to that body was held by the directors of the Kentucky Red Fulkshire Association last Monday in the County Court room.

Among those present were, Woods
Walker, President, W. O. Walker, Secretary, R. E. Dorsey, Robert Bruce, S.
L. Gibbs, J. G. Barnside, and W. B.
Denny. It was unanimously agreed that the future for pigs forwarded before February 1916, should be continued through this year, the same pigs coming under the class of Junior Yearlings, to be shown at the various fairs throughout the state. An important meeting is also called for the last Wednesday in January at the court house in Lancaster when business of great importance will be brought up. Official notice of this meeting will be sent the members by the secretary.

SHELBYVILLE CHURCH

Calls Rev. D. M. Walker, of Stanford.

Rev. D. M. Walker, pastor of the Stanford Christian Church and one of the best known ministers of this denomination in Central Kentucky, has been called to the pastorate of the Christian church at Shelbyville, says
the Interior Journal. Rev. Walker was notified by telegram Sunday afternoon of the action of the Shelbyville church. He said Monday that he would give the matter earnest and prayerful consideration and answer the Shelby-ville people within the next few days.
A dispatch from Shelbyville to the Courier Journal Monday told of the
call, as follows:

Shelbyville, Ky., Jan. 21. The congregation of the Shelbyville Christian church this morning extended a unanimous call to the Rev. David M. Walker who has been the pastor of the Christian church at Stanford for ten years. Mr. Walker is 38 years of age and has a wife and two daughters.
The Shelbyville church has been without a pastor since September, when the Rev. Homer W. Carpenter resigned to become chancellor of Fran-ciscana University at Lexington.

LOOSE LEAF WAREHOUSEFor Lancaster And Garrard County Is Being Agitated.

The following communication from one of our prominent and progressive citizens, advocating a Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse for this city, is very timely and would fill a long felt want, since Garrard county is producing the best and highest quality of the weed in the state. Owing to the superior quality raised in Garrard would make a house here very popular, for tobacco would naturally come from other sections to get in on a good market, that the Garrard county growers would naturally make. The letter follows:

"Lancaster Ky., Jan. 23, 17.
The Central Record,

Lancaster, Ky.

Gentlemen:

The lack of a loose leaf tobacco
warehouse in Lancaster, the County seat of one of the largest tobacco growing counties of Kentucky, is resulting in a great loss to the town and county.
Tobacco that should be sold in Lancaster, is being loaded in great quantities
to Danville, Nicholasville, Lexington, and Richmond where there are loose leaf floors and the farmers are spending thousands of dollars that they would spend here, in other towns where they sell their tobacco crops. It seems to me that something should be done to secure a loose leaf floor for Lancaster
at once as it is a paying proposition and I hope you will agitate this matter
until something is done."

We are always willing to promote anything along this line when we know that it will result in great good to both city and county. It would not only mean much to the town and county but it would mean much to the growers,
for the cost of marketing a crop away from home, naturally incurs greater expense to say nothing of the inconveniences, which must be apparent to every one. It is up to the growers and the people to put this across. A Loose Leaf House in Lancaster will mean money in your pocket and at the same time assist in the upbuilding of an industry, that would mean much to a community.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hutsell, of Winchester, Ky., arrived yesterday and will be guests of their friends, Mrs. Jas. H. Arnold and Miss Mary Arnold, 226 South Ridgewood avenue, to spend the week-end. Later they will accept a change for the season. Mrs. Arnold and niece, who are natives of Central Kentucky, will have other friends and relatives to visit them from the Blue Grass state very soon. —Morning News

Mr. Val Cook gave a most enjoyable sleigh ride, to the Christian Endeavors, Thursday night, with Miss Helen Tinsley as chaperone. After a short ride, the crowd assembled at the home of Will Rice Anna, where all was made ready for fun and merriment. The business was soon disposed of, the officers for the year being, Mr. Gross Carter, President, Miss Minnie Mae Robinson, Vice President, Mr. Willie Miller, Treas., Mr. Val Cook, Corresponding Secretary. This enthusiastic bunch of young people, challenged each other to raise $25. in eight weeks; boys against the girls. The sum total was found to be $55. Arrangements were completed for a lecture at Christian church, Sunday night Feb. 4th, by S. E. Eganmiller, a Transylvania student from Japan, who will appear in native costume and tell a most interesting story. The business over, games and "sells" were indulged in till "the end of a jolly night had come" and the chaperone announced 11:30, much to their amazement, for the time was declared too short. The crowd reluctantly took their leave, with thanks to Val and Will Rice for a good time.

LANCASTER BOY WEDS IN DETROIT.
A marriage of interest to Lancaster friends and relatives is that of Mr. Clinton Bastin, the efficient foreman of the Dodge Bros. large auto plant at Detroit Michigan, to Miss Kingman. They were married in the Cameron Ave. church which was artistically decorated. The music was a choir of sixteen voices with piano accompaniment. A Bridal Commission

By JOHN KENAN

I was sittin' with Amelia before the fireplace, with the logs givin' out a cheerful heat. Amelia didn't seem happy, though, and I asked her why she looked so melancholy-like.

"I'll tell you, Mr. Grimshaw," she said, "I'd like to have the song, 'No One to Love, None to Care.' Well, that's the way I feel. Father ever since mother's death has been restless and cross, and now he's goin' to give me a stepmother. I haven't any brothers or sisters to love, and I'm goin' to have a stepmother to hate."

"Why, Amelia," says I, "the thing for you to do is to get married."

"How can I do that with nobody to marry me?" she asked, awful sad.

"How you talk?" says I. "You know mighty well there's lots of fellers that would be glad to git you."

"I'd like to know where they are. If you know any such I wish you'd send 'em around."

"Sartain. I'll git you a husband in no time. At you particular about his bein' good lookin' or havin' a farm of his own or anything like that?"

"No, I ain't particular, leastways I won't be if you can fix me out before paw brings that red-headed wilder into the house, 'cause I know I've got to git out when she comes in."

"How much time is there?"

"Well, I heard paw say the other day that he cal'lated to be married before the end of next month."

"Supposin' I send you a feller that suits you and you suit him, what is there in it for me?"

"I don't see what I can do for you, Mr. Grimshaw, acedn' that I haven't got a cent in the world, and there isn't any favor I know of that I can do you. But I suppose—looking down at the floor—havin' made the match, you'd be entitled to kiss the bride."

"This bothered me a lot. I was to fix up a match by which another feller was to git all the kisses he wanted for a lifetime, and I was to git one kiss on the weddin' day."

"It seems to me, Amelia," I says, "that's like sellin' a man a house with a lot o' money for a commission. He gits a whole house, and the broker gits a few dollars."

"You forgot," said Amelia, "that the broker don't want all the houses he sells. What would he do with 'em? Besides, when a man buys a house it arys that he's able to own a house and wants a house, and wants that particular house. I don't see that the broker earns anything more than his commission. Do you?"

"I don't see as he does," says I, scratchin' my head. And I didn't. Howsomever, I couldn't git it out o' my noodle that I was goin' to git the little end o' the bargain. But I felt sorry for Amelia, powerful sorry, for I'd had a stepmother myself.

"Is it customary," says I, "to pay a commission before the transaction's completed?"

"Not at all," said Amelia. "That wouldn't do."

"Why not?"

"Well, the broker, havin' got his pay, wouldn't take any pains in the matter."

"If he didn't do his work he might return what he'd received."

"In that case he'd git double pay for aothin'—that is, if his commission was a kiss."

"Isn't there somepin among business men like payin' part down, the rest when the deal has gone through?"

"That's got nothin' to do with brokers; it's when you buy a piece of property yourself."

"Well," I says, givin' it up, "I reckon I'll have to wait for my pay till I've done the job."

I got up and was goin' out when Amelia said:

"How soon are you goin' to send a feller?"

"I dunno. Somehow I don't like the transaction. Seems to me he'll git the lion's share."

"Well, Mr. Grimshaw, since you look at it that way I don't know but I ought to make it more to your interest to do the job. I might double the commission, one-half payable in advance."

"Now you're shoutin'," I said, and instead of goin' away I sat down acedn' and tuk the first half o' my commission. It tasted so good that I began right off to hanker for the other half o' my pay.

"Amelia," I says, "you couldn't pay it all in advance, could you?"

"Sartain not. What would there be to hold you to your work?"

I thort awhile, and then I said:

"Supposin' I make the deal for myself."

"What do you mean by that?"

"I mean supposin' I jist take the other feller by the nape o' the neck and put him out. Then, instead o' actin' as his broker, I acquire the property in my own name."

"Land sakes, Mr. Grimshaw!"

That was all the talkin' we done. I was hungry for another kiss, and I tuk her in my arms and had a dozen without stoppin'.

"Good gracious, Mr. Grimshaw, what you doin'?" she says.

"I'm makin' a fast payment to bind the bargain."

Amelia and I was married before her father brought the stepmother to his house, and Amelia found a home with me. One of her old flames on our weddin' day claimed a right to kiss the bride.

"What did you do to earn it?" says I to him.

Amelia bust out laudin'.

BUFFALO BILL

Killed 4,280 Buffaloes in 18 Months.

The name "Buffalo Bill" was fastened on William F. Cody in 1888, while he was in the service of the Kansas Pacific Railroad. The name was being used further west into the wilderness, and Cody was offered $500 a month to kill twelve buffaloes a day to feed the workmen. He agreed and in eighteen months he shot with his rifle 4,280 of the animals, and from that time forth was known as "Buffalo Bill".

Cody, in 1876, when on Gen. Crook's staff, challenged Yellow Hand, a Cheyenne chief, to a duel on horseback. Cody's first shot killed the chief's mount. Cody's horse at the same instant stepping into a hole and broke its leg. The Indian and the paleface then fought on foot. As a bullet whistled by Cody, singing his cheek bone, he shot Yellowhand through the heart. Scolding his adversary, Cody waived the trophy and rode back to the Fifth Cavalry, shouting, "The first scalp for Custer".

AVERAGE CROWD

Here Last Monday And Some Trading.

Something over an average crowd attended County Court here last Monday, but trading was limited to mules as very few cattle were on the market, while possibly fifty or more mules were offered for sale. We were only able to get a few sales however, as some of the prices were seemingly so high that the buyers were a bit timid about giving out the price. Mr. W. B. Horton who never lets a good one get by him if he can avoid it, was looking mostly for army mules and purchased several at prices ranging from $125 to $155. Mr. G. A. Swinerton disposed of some good ones, one nice mare mule to Bright and Fox for $250, another dandy team of horse mules to George Brown, for $440, Brown selling them a few hours later to Mr. Wren, of Buena Vista, for $450. Mr. Brown then bought another team of Mr. Swinerton for $350. Wilson Rogers sold a mare mule to Richard Gentry for $215, while John Rich sold to same party, a nice team for $450. Center Brothers sold the Phillips, of Lincoln, a three-year-old mare mule for $465. G. H. Bruner bought a team of J. T. Rigby for $225 and James Clark, one of Will Embury for $155. Ed Clark a team of Wm. Sadler, of Lowell, for $340. H. C. Arnold sold a five-year-old horse mule to John Kable for $190. Bright and Fox bought a dandy horse mule of Jim Clark for $200.

WILSON URGES PEACE

And Favors "Universal Monroe Doctrine."

In an address to the United States Senate, President Wilson has made known the things he considers necessary to a lasting peace at the conclusion of the present war. In outlining his ideas, the President suggested virtually a world-wide "Monroe Doctrine" in which he said the United States could not withhold its participation. The freedom of all peoples to work out undisturbed their own policies, the avoidance of entangling alliances; free outlets to and the freedom of the seas, and the limitation of naval and military armament were the main things to the desired end, the President said. Senator Olin M. James and some others of the Kentucky delegation endorsed the speech. In some quarters the speech was criticized as a departure from the policy of "no entangling alliances" upheld by Democratic leaders in the past.

The chief points of the President's address were:

That a lasting peace in Europe cannot be a peace of victory for either side.

That peace must be followed by a definite concert of power to assure the world that no catastrophe or war shall overwhelm it again.

That in such a concert of power the United States cannot withhold its participation to guarantee peace and justice throughout the world.

And that before a peace is made the United States Government should frankly formulate the conditions upon which it would feel justified in asking the American people for their formal and solemn adherence.

LANCASTER HAS HERS.

Omaha building her, the passage of which in the House is forecasted by the vote on the rule, carries the following appropriations for Kentucky:

Shelbyville, $25,000; Barbourville, $45,000; Central City, $30,000; Decatur, $45,000; Eminence, $25,000; Eminence, $10,000; Madisonville, $10,000; Murray, $25,000; Pikeville, $35,000; Hazard, $10,000; Hickman, $5,000; Owenston, $7,500; Pineville, $5,000; Russellville, $10,000; and Stanford, $5,000.

Salt and Milk for Ink.

Lukutains on garments can be soaked out in a mixture of salt and milk. A teaspoonful of salt to nearly a gill of milk is the right proportion. This answers for either white or colored fabrics, but if the ink has been allowed to dry, it will be necessary to soak the stained part in the milk for an hour or two.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWFIELD

Owners of little farms succeed most surely when they aim to have average production, the quality of supplies and the prices obtained considerably above the average. This principle is applicable to all farmers, and owners of small places must adapt it before they can attain a fair success.

Perhaps all readers know of instances where some dairy owner has gained a reputation for producing milk under the most sanitary conditions possible in ordinary farming. In every such case the farmer is immediately able to add 50 or 100 per cent to the price of his milk. He doubles his income or nearly so without materially adding to his expense. It costs little extra to handle milk and butter in a nice way. Love for the work, careful methods and worthy ambition will give the desired results.

If the usual profit in a flock of hens is $2 each above the cost of food the aim should be to increase egg production and the sale of broilers or other kinds of fancy poultry so that there will be a profit of $3 or $1 for each hen kept. This is to be accomplished by selecting pullets from the best laying mothers and by breeding up with full blooded males.

If the cows in a dairy herd are paying an average of $100 a year make an effort to raise it to $200. Perhaps the quickest way to gain this end is by discarding all animals that fail to give five gallons of milk per day for the greater part of the year. The stock may be gradually improved by selection and breeding. It may be possible also to sell the milk or cream to particular customers who will pay double the usual rate.

When a farmer is located near a good market the thing for him to do is to sell to a select trade. He can supply hotels and restaurants as well as private residences. When producers are too far from a good market to drive in regularly they should adopt a system of cooperative selling and hauling. A number working together can ship regularly a given quantity of produce to city consumers, and the latter can best handle the business by means of an organization of some sort.

A few wise farmers in a certain district of the corn belt receive $2.50 to $3 a bushel for all the corn they raise. They understand the selling end of farming as well as the producing end, and their grade is sold for seed.

Raise a first class article, whether grain, vegetables, chickens or pigs, and there will be no difficulty in finding people who want your product if you will let them know what you have and what you sell it for.

I have often seen men going from store to store with a tin bucket and an old rag sticking out under the cover asking the merchants if they wanted butter, and at every place they would be told that it was not wanted, when in fact these very merchants were getting pure butter from other states. They knew the character of the butter in the tin buckets and did not want that sort. As with butter, so it is with all products of the farm. It is quality that makes the articles sell.

Conditions are right for money making by the agricultural class. I am fully convinced that the farmers themselves can develop methods of selling by which they can take advantage of the improved markets. The right growth of cities and the sharp demand for all kinds of produce are substantial evidence of this improvement.

How to Control Scale Insects.

Spraying fruit trees with fine atomized wash and with soluble oils controlled San Jose scale when properly applied, while powdered sulphur gave promising results in experimental tests conducted by entomologists of the Ohio experiment station. Cures were successful.

Little difference in effectiveness was noted between home-balled lime-sulphur and the commercial form mixed with seven parts of water and applied in early spring. Soluble oils mixed with fifteen parts of water are also recommended.

Powder sprays, as soluble sulphur compound and barium sulphur, gave variable results in killing the scale insects. The station experts do not discriminate against such materials, but say they should be used only in an experimental way.
